Great Lakes ATTC Recovery Management Monograph Order Form

Recovery Management (William L. White, MA, Ernest Kurtz, PhD, and Mark Sanders, LCSW, CADC, 2006): This monograph addresses a critical facet of the chronic nature of addictive disease: The need for ongoing recovery management and recovery support services. In three in-depth articles, William White and his co-authors explore the critical need for these services, their nature and varieties, their benefits, and the many questions and challenges the field will have to address as we move toward recovery-based responses to addictive disorders. These articles synthesize scientific findings with key recommendations from grassroots recovery advocacy/support organizations. From policy issues to core recovery management strategies, Recovery Management has sparked widespread discussion of this critical element of success for so many clients.

Perspectives on Systems Transformation: How Visionary Leaders are Shifting Addiction Treatment Toward a Recovery-Oriented System of Care. This publication presents interviews that author William L. White, MA conducted with H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM, Thomas A. Kirk, Jr., PhD, Arthur C. Evans, PhD, Michael Boyle, Phillip Valentine, and Lonneta Albright. These interviews provide the most detailed discussions to-date of the ways in which leaders at all levels are transforming addiction treatment into a truly recovery-oriented system of care. The monograph is designed to inspire dialogue, hope, new ideas, and bold and creative action in this dynamic national movement.

Recovery Management and Recovery-Oriented Systems of Care: Scientific Rationale and Promising Practices. (William White, MA, 2008) This monograph, by William White, is sure to be regarded as a seminal work in the addictions treatment literature, as it is the first and most comprehensive attempt to lay out the empirical support for moving to recovery-oriented systems of care

Peer-based Addiction Recovery Support: History, Theory, Practice, and Scientific Evaluation.

This monograph provides a synthesis of current knowledge about the history, theoretical foundations, methods, and scientific status of peer-based recovery support services. It is written primarily for those directly involved in planning, funding, delivering, supervising, and evaluating
